The Gagnon family to be honored as Pioneers of the Year

Gagnon family roots began in Frenchtown and continue in Waitsburg.

By Lane Gwinn | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG — This year, the Waitsburg Historical Society has selected the Gagnon Family as the Pioneers of the Year. Members of the family will be honored at Fall Festival on September 21 at the Bruce House Museum.

The Gagnon family's deep roots in the Walla Walla Valley farming community date back to the arrival of Marcel Gagnon in 1855. He immigrated from Quebec to the United States and became a citizen at the age of 18 in 1849. Along with other retired Hudson Bay fur trappers, he settled in the Washington Territory near the Whitman Mission in the area known as Frenchtown.

Marcel married Rosalie Dauphin, from the Cayuse Tribe, and together they raised a family of six – Lucien, Jeremy, Sophia, Selina, Marcel Jr., and Peter.

Marcel Jr., who was born in 1873, married Maria Remillardm in 1892, in Walla Walla. Her family also came from Quebec. They raised ten children. Among them was Joseph "Philip" Gagnon, born in 1893. At seventeen, he left home for the ranches of Waitsburg. The call of duty came in 1917, and Philip served in a machine gun battalion during World War I.

After the war, Philip worked for Oscar Abbey in Waitsburg, where he met Eula Eunice Reid from a neighboring farm. She quit school to help her parents with farming and to care for her siblings and cousins.

After marrying in 1922, Phillip and Eunice rented land near Prescott and started their family in a one-room shack, complete with a cook stove and a board-walled tent. Their first three children, John, Don P, and Ellen, were born there. Before long, the couple purchased land and a home near Alto, with the promise of a brighter future. There, Phillip and Eunice added their two youngest, Dorothy and Cecil, to their family while working the farm together.

In the summer after Phillip's passing, son John returned from his Army service in France, during World War II, to the rustling wheat fields of their family farm. He and Don P helped their mother run the family farm.

Eunice met and married Carl Peck in 1946. They took over the Reid farm on Whetstone Creek and had a son, Carl "Butch", who helped his father work the farm.

John married Ava Jean McMillen, and they raised four children – Bess Herndon, Nancy Bray, George, and Barb Jones.

Just down the road, Don P fulfilled his dreams of marrying Ida Fontijn, and they welcomed four children – Kathy "Kitty" Greenwell, Margie Benson, Joe, and Louie.

Ellen married Bernard Doud, a fellow student at Waitsburg High School. They settled in Seattle to raise Don and Laura Tropple. Tragedy struck when Bernie died in 1956. Ellen later married George Huckle and added Deanna Vavrinec to their family.

After returning from the Navy, Cecil went to work for Standard Oil in Dayton, Wash. He married Irene Randolph, and they had three children: Deb Smith, Phil, and Pam Smith. The family traveled and moved frequently with Cecil's job at Standard Oil. They lived in Waitsburg for a bit before moving to John Day, Ore.

Youngest daughter Dorothy married Dorne Hall, who also went to Waitsburg High School. They moved to Seattle and raised daughters Terry Ferguson and Sharon Richter. The daughters moved back to Dayton and Waitsburg to raise their families. Dorne and Dorothy moved to Walla Walla after Dorne retired from Boeing.

Through the years, many of the cousins remained close, marrying neighbors, and raising families across the region. The community thrived with Margie Benson, Joe & Joann, Louie & Marie, and George & Roslyn all raising their families in the Waitsburg area.

There have been seven generations woven through Waitsburg's history. The current generation includes at least 30 cousins and family members.

"All the cousins and their children have very fond memories of the Alto Tunnel and Grandma & Grandpa Peck's farm," said Kathy Gagnon Greenwell.

AT THE LIBERTY: "Downton Abbey: The Grand Finale"

THE TIMES

DAYTON – "Downton Abbey: The Grand Finale" is the last chapter of one of television and film's most enduring period dramas, with five seasons and three movies. The Crawley family, staff, and the grand house are entering the 1930s and must navigate how to embrace the future. The familiar cast includes Hugh Bonneville, Elizabeth McGovern, Michelle Dockery, Joely Richardson, Paul Giamatti, Jim Carter, and Joanne Froggatt.

One Rotten Tomatoes critic wrote, "Fellowes and Curtis have gifted audiences with a trilogy closer that's worth coming back for as it brings a satisfying closure to the series. It hits about every emotional note a fan could hope for in seeing these characters off to their imagined futures."

The critics gave "Downton Abbey: The Grand Finale" a rating of 89%. It is rated PG for suggestive material, smoking and some thematic elements and the runtime is 123 minutes.

On September 14, the theater is hosting a Downton Abbey Picnic Tea & Movie Sunday event. The tea begins at 1:30 p.m. in the Liberty Theater annex; entry on the alley side of the theater. Enjoy sweet and savory treats, including finger sandwiches, scones with clotted cream. A tea that would even please Lady Grantham. Tickets are $25 per person. There are only 60 tickets for the event, which includes the Picnic Tea and admission to the "Downton Abbey: The Grand Finale." There will be no regular movie-only tickets on the special event day. The movie will run two weeks on the normal schedule, from September 12 to 16 and 19 to 23 excluding September 14. Tickets now on sale on our website, or at the box office Tuesday and Friday 2-5 p.m. or call 509-382-1380.

The Manhattan Short Film Festival returns on September 26 to 30. Discover your inner film critic by casting your vote for Best Film and Best Actor in the "28th Annual Manhattan Short Film Festival" screening. The festival presents an international line-up of 10 short films exploring a wide range of topics. The films show dramatic and comical takes on migration, reconciliation, housing, parenthood, and the price of silence. Not to mention the trials and tribulations of growing up, with dangerous grifins overhead and an OMG murderous mother. And what is it about golf anyway? Runtime: 2 hours and 34 minutes.

Upcoming movies "Downton Abbey: The Grand Finale" on Sept. 12 to 16 and Sept. 19 to 23, "Manhattan Short Film Festival" on Sept. 26 to 30, "The Senior" on Oct. 3 to 7, and "A Beer Odyssey" (Rainier Beer Movie) Oct. 10 to 14.

OBITUARIES

Pearl Bickelhaupt

October 21, 1933 – August 30, 2025

Pearl (Stedman) Bickelhaupt passed away peacefully on Saturday, August 30, 2025, at home, at the age of 91, with the gentle calm that always followed her. She was the anchor of her family, shaping memories that will never fade: childhood birthdays, long summer days on the farm, pool parties, kitchen-table chats, harvest nights, and a house that always had room for everyone. Her love was practical and constant: birthday cards always remembered, pen-pal notes to the kids, quick snacks for the road, a door that was always open. She loved in small, everyday ways that made life gentler for the

Born October 21, 1933, in Waitsburg, Washington, Pearl never wanted to be far from the people and places she loved. She and Merle were eighth-grade sweethearts, and on September 7, 1952, they married in Dayton, WA. A young vow became a lifetime of long faithfulness. September 7 marked 73 years since their wedding day.

Pearl is survived by her husband, Merle; their children, Shelly, Blaine, and Dean; and her sister, Carolyn Thompson. She is also survived by 8 grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren, and 4 great-great-grandchildren, along with extended family and friends who will miss her deeply. She was preceded in death by her sisters, Patsy (Pat) Abel and Rose Arlene Rinell, and by her parents, Art Stedman and Viola Powell.

With gratitude, the family thanks the caregivers who helped her remain at home. In lieu of flowers, please consider a simple act of kindness in Pearl's name, perhaps a handwritten card or note to someone you love.

"The Lord bless you and keep you." (Numbers 6:24)

Terry Dean Linville Hoon

August 25, 1949 – August 23, 2025

Terry Dean Linville Hoon, 75, of Dayton, Washington, passed away peacefully at home on August 23, 2025, surrounded by his family, due to complications from pulmonary fibrosis.

He was born on August 25, 1949, in Walla Walla, Washington, to Bill and Phyllis (McFalls) Linville and spent most of his life in his beloved hometown of Dayton. Phyllis later married Roy Hoon, who became a second father to Terry.

Terry completed his early education in Dayton, graduating from Dayton High School in 1968. He took great pride in being a Dayton Bulldog and was a regular presence at local sporting and school events throughout his life. He went on to attend Walla Walla Community College, where he competed on the college rodeo team as a steer wrestler and bronc rider. His passion for rodeo continued as he remained a dedicated volunteer and supporter of the Dayton Days rodeo.

Terry's working career often found him in sales or parts management in a variety of agriculture-related companies, including Pillsbury/Green Giant, Harvester Supply, R & B Ag. Machinery, Zetor Sales, and Seneca. In 1977, Terry opened a recreation center in Dayton for all ages called, Terry's Place.

In 1972, Terry married Carolyn Hinshaw and became a stepfather to Cristin. Together, they welcomed two children—Jason in 1974 and Heather in 1976. In 1984, Terry married Denise Hulce, and their family expanded with the birth of Brooke in 1987.

The Lions Club held a special place in Terry's life, where he was an active member for 32 years, serving his community. Another cause close to his heart was blood donation—first through the Red Cross and later with Vitalant. Over the years, he generously gave more than 10 gallons of his valuable O+ blood.

Terry's favorite place was the great outdoors. He spent countless hours in the mountains—hunting for wild game, morels, huckleberries, and always provided plenty of firewood to keep the home warm. He cherished time at his cabin, which he designed and built himself, a true labor of love. Winters often found him skiing the slopes of Bluewood, while summers were filled with days on the Snake River boating and fishing or battling bogeys and sand traps on the golf course. Terry had a long-standing tradition of participating in the Bloomsday run in Spokane, WA, proudly missing only the first few years, for a total of 43 years. He was also involved with organizing the first Touchet River Run in Dayton. In retirement, he enjoyed tinkering around his mountain property, sharing his love of the outdoors with his grandkids, and crafting granite Lazy Susans, which he happily shared with family and friends.

Terry was preceded in death by his parents, Phyllis and Roy Hoon, and Bill Linville. He is survived by his wife of 41 years, Denise, his son Jason (Angi) Steelhammer, and his daughters: Cristin Anderson, Heather (Cory) Vaughn, and Brooke (Dru) Van Ausdle. He was a proud grandfather to Frank Steelhammer, Jeff (Mel), Tyler (Rylie), Justin, and Barrett Vaughn, Ava and Layton Van Ausdle, and great-granddaughter Hazel Vaughn. Terry also leaves behind many close friends who were like family to him, especially Duane, Kevin, and Kenny.

In honor of Terry, the family encourages you to consider donating blood or contributing to the Dayton School system—whether through the Boosters, PTSO, FFA or the athletic programs.

A Celebration of Life will be at the Columbia County Fairgrounds Pavilion on September 27, 2025 at 4:00 pm with dinner provided. A graveside service for family will precede the Celebration of Life. Corbeill Funeral Homes in Dayton is caring for the family. On-line condolences may be made at www.corbeillfuneral-homes.com

Celebration of Life for Ginger Hofer

The Hofer family invites you to join us in honoring the life of Ginger Hofer, who passed away on March 27, 2025, at the age of 95. Ginger was an exceptionally beloved wife, mother, grandmother, and friend throughout her time with us. Her spirit is admired and respected for being an empowering, empathetic, and conscientious figure of warmth and class.

An inurnment ceremony will be held at the Waitsburg City Cemetery on September 19 at 2:30 p.m., followed by the Celebration of Life at the Palouse Valley Community Center at 3:30 p.m. The community center is across from Preston Park at 122 Coppei Avenue.

We invite all who knew her to share memories, stories, and love as we remember a life well lived.

With love, the Hofer Family

WELLER LIBRARY DIRECTOR VISITS WAITSBURG ELEMENTARY SCHOOL CLASSES

Celebrate Library Card Sign-up Month with "One Card, Endless Possibilities"

By Karen Huwe | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG — September is the American Library Association's Library Card Sign-up Month. The theme "One Card, Endless Possibilities" is a reminder that signing up for a library card can be the first step toward academic achievement and lifelong learning.

Weller Public Library Director Sarah Roberts visited Waitsburg Elementary classes on Monday, September 8, to show students how library cards can give them access to books, ebooks, audiobooks, games, and other resources. Roberts also helped new students, or those who have not yet received a public library card, to sign up. All Waitsburg residents, including school employees and students, can obtain a free library card.

Roberts brought a large variety of books for every student at Waitsburg Elementary to choose a free book, compliments of the Waitsburg Weller Library Board of Trustees. Roberts also distributed fall calendars showing all the fun activities that the library offers.

The Weller Public Library is committed to providing assistance, information, and support through school outreach programs. Roberts has led efforts to bring educational and creative programs to the children of Waitsburg through its public library.

Cardinal Back to School Kickoff

By Karen Huwe | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG — Waitsburg Booster Club held its annual "Back to School" kickoff for the Cardinals at the Waitsburg Elementary's multipurpose room on Tuesday, September 2.

The event was a big success, with lots of kids and community members who came to help start the new school year with enthusiasm and energy.

"This was the largest turnout yet," said Waitsburg Booster Club's President Ross Hamann.

David Long from Walla Walla DJ provided music, coaches introduced the fall sports teams, cheerleaders led the group in the fight song, and everyone enjoyed the BBQ dinner thanks to chefs Lance Carter and Marco Reyes.

"Everyone had a great time! It is going to be a great year, plus the Booster Club signed up over 20 new members and sold over $1500 of Waitsburg Cardinals' merchandise. All proceeds go right back to supporting our active and involved students," said Hamann.

The Waitsburg Booster Club meets on the first Tuesday of the month in the Waitsburg High School Cage at 6:30 p.m. The next meeting will be on October 7. The new officers are President Ross Hamann, Vice-President Julie Karl, Secretary Lance Carter, and Treasurer Janet Tate.

Board members are Kim Hamann, Dave Tipton, Deanna Coulston, Wendy Carter, and Karen Huwe.

LOCAL AFTERSCHOOL PROGRAMS AWARDED GRANTS

By Lane Gwinn | THE TIMES

DAYTON/WAITSBURG — Afterschool programs in Dayton and Waitsburg have started the new school year with grant funding.

The Club in Dayton received funding from the Educational Service District 123's Cohort 20 program through its 21st Century Community Learning Centers initiative. The ESD123 funding was awarded to programs in three communities, including Dayton, to expand high-quality afterschool and summer learning opportunities.

"Cohort 20 allows us to bring more consistent, high-impact learning time to students and families," said Margarita Alaman, 21st Century Program Director at ESD 123. "We're excited to partner with schools and community organizations in Kiona-Benton, Finley, and Dayton to deliver engaging academics, hands-on enrichment, and meaningful family supports."

The intention of the ESD123 grants is to create a coordinated network of afterschool and summer offerings for academic support, STEM projects, and social-emotional learning to complement the school day.

The Palouse Valley Community Center in Waitsburg was one of 62 nonprofits that received a Pacific Power Foundation grant in September 2025. The foundation's funding supports growth and vitality in local communities through one of four cycles of charitable investments. The focus of the September cycle is Arts and Culture, with awards of less than $10,000, averaging from $2,000 to $5,000.

"The Pacific Power Foundation is inspired by these critical community-serving organizations that help our region prosper," said Ryan Flynn, president of Pacific Power. "It's an honor to support their work in building vibrant communities."

PIONEER PORTRAITS

Fifteen Years Ago September 9, 2010

On Tuesday, September 14, the population of Waitsburg will triple in size, at least for a few days. Normally around 1,250, the addition of about 2,500 bicyclists and support personnel from Cycle Oregon means there will be almost 4,000 people in town. Waitsburg is used to having lots of visitors. The annual Lion's Rib Fest and Days of Real Sport horse racing event in May, and the Commercial Club's salmon barbeque and the Pioneer Fall Festival in September usually bring hundreds, sometimes more than 1,000 folks to town but never this many. Not even the spring Tour of Walla Walla cycling event, which brings more than 600 travelers here, doesn't come close. The cycle Oregon is a unique moment for Waitsburg. Although it's possible that its Portland-based organizers will choose this community for its route again some time in the future, there's no guarantee the visitors will come back as a group. The 2,200 cyclists who are expected here next week are from many different states and from Canada, Germany, the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, Japan and Sweden.

"Please don't shoot the cables," said Pacific Northwest Bell manager Richard Tarver in an annual message to hunters. Tarver explained that around this time of year, as the hunting season gets underway, telephone wires are sometimes damaged by gunfire creating a hardship for telephone users in surrounding areas. "To a shut-in or to someone hurt in an accident, the telephone may be the crucial link to medical assistance," Tarver said. "When a line is hit by gunfire it can take up to six hours to locate the specific damage, dig out the pellets and splice the cable. That's six hours without a phone for the people served from that location."

CARDINALS LOSE SEASON OPENER

By Karen Huwe | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG — The Waitsburg Cardinals' season-opening football game against DeSales on Friday, September 5, did not go as Coach Gabe Kiefel had hoped, resulting in a 66-16 loss.

The DeSales Irish won the coin toss and deferred the opening kickoff to the Cardinals. JJ Gleason received the kick and ran the ball for 30 yards. The Cardinals went four and out, and the Irish took over and scored on a long pass. After making the two-point conversion, DeSales led 8-0 with 8:43 remaining in the first quarter.

The Irish scored again on a pass play before the Cardinals got on the scoreboard when Martin Vasquez scored on a 3-yard run with 38 seconds left in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, the Irish scored 32 points and the Cardinals scored eight; a run by Gleason. That would be the last score by the Cardinals while the Irish put 20 points on the board in the second half.

Stand-out performances include Gleason, who had 137 yards rushing, 39 yards passing, and 112 yards returning for a total of 288 all-purpose yards, and Jarod Hankins, who had two quarterback sacks and eight tackles.

Vasquez had 55 yards rushing and caught three passes. Isa Reyes caught three passes and had three tackles. Victor Whitmore tackled three. Landen Henry and Uriah York each caught three passes, and Tucker Hamilton and Camdyn Vories each had a quarterback sack.

"This was not the way we wanted the game to be; nonetheless, there were some good things we did. We have a lot of things we can improve and work on. We play Mabton on the road next Friday and are hoping to refine our offense and defense to be more successful," said Kiefel.

CARDINALS LOSE TO THE TIGERS IN VOLLEYBALL ACTION

By Karen Huwe | THE TIMES

Waitsburg High School has a new varsity volleyball coach. Jamie Smit coached the Waitsburg Middle School team for the past three years. Smit's previous volleyball coaching experience was in Nezperce, Idaho, coaching the high school junior varsity team.

"We have a very young team, and I am hoping for the best," said Smit.

Her team consists of one senior, one junior, three sophomores, and seven first-year students.

The Cardinals had their first non-league game against Prescott on

Thursday, September 4, in Waitsburg. Coach Smit said the girls played with "first game jitters" and lost in three sets: 25-2, 25-14, and 25-9.
