Dayton Schools receive $1,000 from PSE

By Justin Jaech | THE TIMES

DAYTON— The Dayton School Board met in the High School Library at 6:30 p.m. on November 18, 2026. Superintendent Jeremy Wheatley, Board Chair Jeffrey McCowen, and School Directors Grant Griffin, Ryan Paulson, and Pat Davidson were present. Aneesha Dieu did not attend.

The personnel report was included in the Consent Agenda and included Danica Gatlin taking the position of Freshman Class Advisor, and three coaching volunteers: JE McCaw for HS Baseball, Chad Pruiett for HS Girls Basketball, and Ray Compton for HS Wrestling. Also on the Consent Agenda were recommendations to approve a $200 donation for Elementary Homeroom reading program prizes from Brent and Yvonne Carroll and a $1000 donation for K-12 students' warm-weather needs from Puget Sound Energy.

Jordan McCowen, ASB Treasurer, gave the ASB report. He said thirteen students attended a regional leadership summit in Hermiston, OR, with more than 150 other students from the region. He said students brought back fresh ideas for improving school spirit, games, and organization.

Jaelynn Chapman, student representative to the School Board, also spoke about the same leadership summit.

In the Athletic Director's report, Sam Korslund said that wrestling and girls' basketball practices have begun, while boys' basketball and cheer will start two days after this Board meeting.

Amy Cox, giving the principal's report, discussed math and the Curriculum Committee and said K-5 teachers are using Reveal Math along with Facts on Fire. The teachers had positive remarks on these programs. The Curriculum Committee is now turning its attention towards social studies.

Superintendent Wheatley highlighted his community involvement, including hosting Representative Mary Dye and Senator Mark Shoessler, and participation in community groups such as Kiwanis and Coalition for Youth and Families.

Jana Eaton gave the budget status report, and there were no items of concern. Eaton said things were going well and the school district was on track financially.

The Board approved the first and second readings of Policy 2020, which addresses the adoption of instructional materials.

The meeting adjourned shortly before 8 p.m.

Waitsburg City Council meeting hears from BDI

By Lane Gwinn | THE TIMES

The Waitsburg City Council met for its regular monthly meeting on November 18, 2026, at 7 p.m. at City Hall. City Administrator Randy Hinchliffe, City Attorney Jared Hawkins, Mayor Marty Dunn, and Council members Jillian Henze, Jim Romine, Kevin House, Cindy Bishop, and Brian Richards attended.

Karen Huwe

Karen Gregutt recognized for her dedicated work on the Planning Commision by the council.

During public comment, Jeff Thompson of Basin Disposal, Inc., told the council that Waste Management will take over Basin Disposal in mid-December. Thompson said residents can expect continuity in service and rates. The sales agreement between BDI and WM required the city's approval of the ownership transfer before the sale could go through. The council approved the transfer.

The council held a public hearing on the 2027 Property taxes. Though the city has banked capacity to raise the rate more than the normal 1% level, City Administrator Randy Hinchliffe proposed keeping it at 1%. No public comment was heard, and the council unanimously approved Resolution 2027-809, raising the property tax levy by 1%.

The council approved the third payment to Sharpe and Preszler Construction in the amount of $313,667 for the Waterline Improvement Project.

The council approved Resolution 2026-810, allowing Hinchliffe to apply for a loan from Washington State of Department of Health through its Drinking Water State Revolving Fund. The water project is estimated to cost $1.7 million for work on Main Street through Waitsburg's downtown, and $1.8 million from 3rd Street to 8th. The resolution authorizes the city administrator to apply for $3.2 million. The estimated increase to the city's water rate would be $25 per month if the loan is awarded.

The council then discussed the Emergency Funding Agreement from the Department of Commerce for emergency sewer line relining on an area behind Main Street to W. Hwy 124.

The $300,000 funding would come from a 0% interest loan and would also result in increased sewer rates to repay the loan. The council approved the agreement.

The council passed Resolution 2026-188 to update the city's Public Records Request Policy. The changes addressed how the city would handle fees for records requests. It was passed unanimously.

Jillian Hence recognized Karen Gregutt, who has stepped down from the Planning Commission, which she has headed since 2011. She was very involved with the comprehensive plan, having gone through the updating process twice during her time on the commission.

AT THE LIBERTY:

Two weeks left "The Wizard of Oz"
November 25-December 5

THE TIMES

DAYTON — The audience has spoken. "The Wizard of Oz" at The Liberty Theater in Dayton is a hit, keeping even the youngest mesmerized by the characters and costumes that took the stage last weekend.

What a way to celebrate the 25th year anniversary of reopening The Liberty Theater in 2001 with the live production of "The Music Man." "The Wizard of Oz" 2026 celebrates all the wonderful things that make this theater such a special place.

It is the third production of "The Wizard of Oz" at the theater, with shows in 2003 and 2015. Fun fact: many of the cast, crew, and directors have been involved in multiple shows. Roz Edwards has been the Wicked Witch all three times. Chuck Reeves also appeared in all three productions as a Winkie. Mike Ferrians played the Scarecrow in 2003, and is outstanding as this year's Cowardly Lion.

The director this year, Brenda Henderson, directed Mike in 2015, and in 2003 Brenda played a hilarious crow. Marshall Nechodom is playing the Tin Man, a role his father, Dan Nechodom, performed in 2003. Elizabeth Arebalos-Jagelski, our music director, played a beautiful Glinda the Good Witch in 2015 and directed the show in 2003. Other talents from this year's production that performed in multiple shows are Margaret and Kyle Terry.

The Liberty Theater's free movie for Dayton's Christmas Kickoff on Friday, November 27 at 3 p.m. "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever" is based on the book that centers on the Herdman kids, absolutely the worst in the history of the world and how they unwittingly teach their community the true meaning of Christmas. Rated PG for thematic material and brief underage smoking. Runtime is 99 minutes.

Stop by The Liberty Theater on Ladies Night Out on Dec. 7, from 5 to 8 p.m. to pick up holiday gifts. Movie Pass packages include a movie admission, small popcorn, and a medium soda or water. Gift certificates will also be available for purchase.

This year's Variety Show is "The Connection Collection, Families, Friends and other Folk." Information Night is on Wednesday, December 9 at 6 p.m. Auditions will be held December 16, 17 and 19. The performance dates are March 12-14 and 19-21.

Upcoming Movies: "Hershey" Dec. 11-15, "Hunger Games: Sunrise on the Reaping" Dec. 18-26, "Jumanji: Open World" Dec. 26-29 and Jan. 2-5, "Avengers: Doomsday" Jan. 8-12, "Dune 3" Jan. 15-19. Schedule is always subject to change.

MEDICARE HEALTH PLAN OPEN ENROLLMENT ENDS DEC. 7

THE TIMES

OLYMPIA — If you have Medicare or will be eligible next year, it is time to review Medicare plans for the 2027 policy year. There are several types of plans and many providers available in our area, however, these can change yearly. To understand your options and get the best coverage, reach out to an insurance agent or visit Washington's Insurance Commissioner's Office or Medicare websites.

The Washington State Office of the Insurance Commissioner offers help and resources for state residents. Visit https://waitsburgtimes.com/2p9x-srrw for more information, including access to Washington's Statewide Health Insurance Benefits Advisors (SHIBA). These volunteer advisors help explain the different parts of Medicare and assist with Medicare enrollment. SHIBA'S website is www.insurance.wa.gov.

The office also helps users understand Medigap (Medicare Supplement) and Medicare Advantage plans. It also offers help if your Medicare Advantage plan changes or leaves your area.

Plan information, assistance, and plan comparisons are available at Medicare.gov. To compare plans visit at waitsburgtimes.com/yc35ccxj.

It is also important to check with the hospital districts in your area to find out which plans they accept.

For Columbia County Health District visit https://cchd-wa.org/insurance-in-network.

For Providence accepted plans visit www.providence.org/lp/wamt-medicare.

VALLEY GIVING GUIDE IS COMING

THE TIMES

WAITSBURG — The Valley Giving Guide is a great resource for making a lasting impact on nonprofits in the Walla Walla, Columbia, Garfield, and Umatilla Counties. The annual guide offers a creative way to boost individual gifts.

Every gift will be boosted from the Bonus Pool, with online gifts earning the greatest boost.

The full amount of each donation will go to the causes chosen. Sponsorship dollars can cover all fees, or donors can opt to pay them, increasing the Bonus Pool.

Organizations will be eligible for boosts that include the following prizes.

Over the five weeks, one donation each day will be chosen to win the Golden Ticket, which will add $250 to the donation. Each week, the nonprofits that raise the most money will be eligible for $500 prizes.

The organizations that attract the most unique donors each week will win $500 prizes. Organizations with the most donors on Giving Tuesday, December 1, 2026, will be awarded $1,000.

The community is driving this effort to make change, nurture progress, and support local nonprofits. Look for the guide in The Times.

Mary Geraine Fries Hansen

May 29, 1923 – November 16, 2026

Mary Geraine Fries Hansen, 103, passed away on November 16, 2026. When recently asked if she felt it was her time, she replied, "Do you mean dying? No, I'm having way too much fun!" This summed up her life.

Geraine was the eldest of three, born in Rippey, Iowa, on May 29, 1923, to John and Amanda DeSautel Fries. Geraine spent her early years in Iowa before moving to North Dakota, where her family farmed and worked in coal mining. In fifth grade, while living in North Dakota, she won the school spelling bee at Mott, beating the sixth-grade champion and earning a scrapbook, which sparked her lifelong interest in family history. In 1935, prompted by the Dust Bowl, her family relocated to Walla Walla, Washington, when she was twelve years old. Geraine graduated from St. Vincent Academy in 1941. During World War II, she traveled by train to Washington, DC, to work as a stenographer for the Department of the Interior and attend George Washington University. After the war, she returned to Walla Walla, where she worked for the Washington-Idaho Seed Company and the Union Pacific Railroad.

After World War II, Geraine met Jim Hansen and his red Ford Thunderbird convertible at an American Legion dance at the Marcus Whitman Hotel in Walla Walla. Jim told her they would need a winter wedding because he was too busy farming the rest of the year. Four months later, they married on January 8, 1947, at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, remained together for 68 years, raised six children, and lived in the same farm home for the rest of her life.

Geraine and Jim founded Hansen Harvester, Inc. in 1973 and farmed on North and South Fork Coppei Road and Coppei Mountain. For 57 years, they specialized in custom harvesting and no-tilling, employing, housing, and feeding hundreds of young people who worked summer wheat harvests to fund college. Geraine served as CFO, the business's driving force, and the crew's main cook for many years. In 2014, the Waitsburg Historical Society honored Jim and Geraine as "Pioneers of the Year" at the Fall Festival.

Geraine served as president of the American Legion Auxiliary, 8 et 40, Altar Society, Dixie Homemakers Club, Walla Walla County Cowbelles, DeNova Club, and as Chairman of the Waitsburg American Cancer Society. She was also a member of the Danish Sisterhood, the Walla Walla Genealogy Society, and the Walla Walla Country Club. She enjoyed playing bridge and pinochle, played 9-Hole golf, and was a galloneer blood donor for the American Red Cross. Geraine was a devoted member of St. Mark's Catholic Church in Waitsburg.

Mary Geraine Fries Hansen
May 29, 1923 – November 16, 2026

Geraine loved to travel and began her adventures in 1962, when she and Jim drove their children in a two-seater International Harvester Travelette pickup truck from Waitsburg, Washington to Mexico City, taking the kids out of school for a month. Following that first trip in 1962, they traveled to more than 57 countries across six continents. Their journeys included Southeast Asia, Timbuktu in Mali, India, Nepal, Mt. Everest, Europe, South America, China, the Holy Land, the Panama Canal, the former Soviet Union, Scandinavia, and the Caribbean.

Geraine was a homemaker whose basement overflowed with canned fruits, vegetables, jams, bars, cookies, and homemade wine. Her dill pickles, hot mustard, and Cherry Jubilee were family favorites. Besides canning, she made clothes for her daughters and sewed names on coveralls for family and harvest crew. Passionate about fashion and hairstyling, Geraine celebrated her 100th birthday in 2023 with a "Hansen House Couture Collection" fashion show featuring 12 models showcasing 45 of her evening gowns from the 1960s and 1970s. Again in 2025, P.E.O. Chapter CN of Walla Walla held a fundraiser at the Walla Walla Country Club, modeling Geraine's evening gowns and raising more than $5,000 for women's education.

Geraine enjoyed collecting and trading recipes, writing family history, and researching genealogy back to the 1500s on her mother's side. She also did scrapbooking, made photo albums, and created six membership books for local civic clubs. She played cards, the Hammond organ, and, in her youth, created treasured Nupastel paintings. She logged decades of garden plantings and, with her family's help, ran a large garden. She enjoyed following the news and debating politics.

Hers was a rich, well-lived life, with a deep love and appreciation for her family. She is dearly missed and never forgotten.

She is survived by her children: Karen Yager, Waitsburg; Jeanette Hansen, Walla Walla; John Hansen, Ferndale; Mary Hansen (Creston Rogerson), Spain; and Cheryl Hansen, Waitsburg, who remained faithfully by her mother's side for the last decade. Geraine is also survived by three grandsons, six great-grandchildren, and numerous nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her beloved husband, James "Jim" Hansen, on September 9, 2015; parents John and Amanda Fries; brother Francis Fries, who gave his life at sea in WWII; sister Rita Gall; son Norman Hansen; son-in-law Warren "Bud" Yager; and grandson Michael Salvador.

A memorial mass will be held on December 1, 2026, at 11:00 AM, at St. Mark's Catholic Parish in Waitsburg, with a reception to follow in the church hall. She will be laid to rest immediately afterward at Waitsburg City Cemetery.

Memorial donations may be made to a charity of your choice through Herring Groseclose Funeral Home, 315 W Alder, Walla Walla. Family and friends are invited to sign the online guest book at www.herringroseclose.com.

Royal Block and OOLA distill a unique history

THE TIMES

WAITSBURG — Royal Block will debut LoundaGIN, its custom-blended artisan gin, during Waitsburg's Hometown Christmas. On Saturday, December 5, 2026, from 4 to 6 p.m., Royal Block will serve LoundaGIN at its wine bar on Waitsburg's historic Main Street during Hometown Christmas celebrations. The 21+ public is welcome.

LoundaGIN will also be available by the bottle at the Waitsburg Grocery by December 4th and in Seattle through Oola Distillery at OolaDistillery.com.

"The history is rich", Joseph Roberts said. "My partner, Tiina Jaatinen, and I bought this building from distiller Kirby Kallas-Lewis and his partner KT Niehoff during the pandemic. They had planned to build a distillery here but were lured to Seattle, where their Oola Distillery is now thriving. Before leaving, they began distilling their award-winning medium-full-bodied bourbon, "Waitsburg Whisky," which remains widely available, including at Waitsburg Grocery.

"In discussing our nascent plans with Kirby and KT", Roberts said, "we promised to refurbish and reanimate the building in a manner that honors the history and "spirits" of the building and town. We pointed out that Kirby and KT were a recent part of that history. We also observed that "G.W. Loundagin 1888" faintly graces the building's crown cornice above the Main Street entrance."

With some sleuthing, Roberts and Jaatinen learned that George Washington Loundagin (1832–1911) was an early settler in the Walla Walla Valley, homesteading along the lower Coppei Creek near Waitsburg in the early 1860s. With the fruits of his land and labor, he built the historic Royal Block Hotel and Mercantile in 1888. Loundagin is the maternal great-grandfather of Waitsburg resident Linda Stonecipher, whose family is still farming wheat here.

"During our cocktail hour, Tiina and my thoughts tend to meander", Roberts said. "We were considering how to knit myriad threads of history when we noticed the last three letters of Mr. Loundagin's surname. "That's it!", we said. "When the time is right, let's ask Oola to craft a beautiful gin using Stonecipher's grain and Waitsburg water."

"It took six years to bring this to fruition", Jaatinen says, "but it's been so #WORTHTHEWAITsburg!"

To complement our sense of design, Jaatinen says, we hired our neighbor, Suze Wood, of The Pressroom, to produce a bespoke "LoundaGIN" label featuring Loundagin's name (with the last three letters foil-highlighted) and a double-sided back label visible through the gin with a century-old photograph of the Royal Block Hotel taken by Loundagin's son, John. "For some reason," Roberts says, "the image bends, its scale shifts and reflections mingle as the bottle empties. It's as though the spirits are alive".

Asked how she feels about the gin, Jaatinen is effusive: "It reminds me of cutting Birch whisks after skinny-dipping as a child! …and sneaking Erkki's gin behind the sauna."

The Royal Block is an oasis for the curious, the community, and travelers seeking a refreshing sojourn. With western bones and Nordic skin, this bohemian hotel features wonderfully appointed guest rooms and a spacious bar to savor artisan sustenance from across the Walla Walla Valley while immersed in art, poetry, music and lively conversation.

YOUTH FOOTBALL AWARDS

Waitsburg's youth football coach Daniel Watkins presented awards to players on Sunday, November 15.

Cooper Smith won the Coaches Award. He showed major improvement, particularly on defense, until an injury he sustained in week two sidelined him. Even though he was unable to play due to his injury, Cooper continued to show up to practices and the games to support the team in any way he could.

Gavin Watkins won one of three Captain's Awards. Watkins showed great team leadership by never missing a practice or game all season. The team also relied heavily on his ability to quickly adapt to any position on the field. He impressed his coaches and teammates by seeing openings to cut up the field and taking tacklers head-on with his powerful running style.

Julian Gillentine was named team captain because he showed leadership as the team's workhorse. Whenever the team needed a big play, it knew it could count on Julian.

Charlie Reger was named team captain because he showed great growth at quarterback. This position is the most challenging one on the field, as it requires knowing everyone's role on each play. Reger had a huge impact on defense by racking up a large number of tackles.

Isaac Knudson was voted "Rookie of the Year" by his teammates. Knudson played a crucial role in the team's running game as a dedicated lead blocker. He was well-balanced on his feet and is extremely athletic. Knudson earned the nickname "Hands" this season due to his natural ability to catch every ball thrown to him. It was hard to believe that it was his first year playing football.

Most Improved Award went to Richard Chavez in his first year playing football. He was tasked with the important role of offensive and defensive lineman. He quickly started understanding his responsibilities and improved each week. Chavez was the youngest player on the team and has a bright future in football.

Rodney Gonzales was voted Most Inspirational by his teammates. He inspired those around him by staying positive and never leaving a teammate behind during drills or conditioning. Gonzales knew all the plays and what each player needed to do.

Julian Gillentine was unanimously voted as Most Valuable Player by his teammates. It was no secret that he was the Cardinals' star player. Gillentine had outstanding rushing stats: 614 yards, 11 yards per carry, and 10 touchdowns. He also led the Cardinals in tackles this year.

Three captains (l-r): Charlie Reger, Jullian Gillentine, and Gavin Watkins.

NEW COACH FOR BOYS' BASKETBALL

Waitsburg High School's boys' basketball coach Chris Andrews has a lot of talented players for his first season as head basketball coach.

"I feel like our depth is going to be one of our biggest strengths," said Andrews.

Andrews has been impressed with the competitiveness and effort the guys have brought to practice. They are pushing each other every day, and that is what he likes to see. He believes this group has a lot of potential and if they continue to work hard, compete and improve each day, they will have an opportunity to put together a really successful season.

First home game will be Tuesday, December 1st. Fill the gym and cheer on the Cardinals.

MS BOY'S BASKETBALL BUILDING SKILLS

Waitsburg Middle School boys' basketball teams suffered losses to Liberty Christian Richland (LCR) and DeSales.

The A- team lost 62-22 at LCR on November 16. Nolan King led the team in scoring.

"The game was super physical. I am so proud of our defense, and it was one of our best games moving the ball up and down the court," said Coach Scott Creeley.

B- team Isaac Knudson rebounds and starts the fast break. #40 Owen Harvey and #14 Sawyer Harvey

Against DeSales in Waitsburg on November 18, the A-team lost 40-23. Hudson Lynch led the team with 11 points. Julian Gillentine scored six points, Charlie Reger four and Gavin Watkins scored two.

"Our players played a hard-fought game. Every week they have built on the good things. They are as coachable as they come," said Creeley.

Creeley expects a strong finish to the season. The team is getting rebounds and attacking loose balls.

The B-team lost 54-3 at LCR. The boys had a rough first half where they struggled to put up a shot. In the second half, the boys kicked into gear. They never showed signs of giving up and kept hustling after the ball on defense and rebounding. Gavin Watkins scored two points, and Rodney Gonzales scored one point in the loss.

Against DeSales, the B-team suffered a 36-8 loss to the Irish.

Coach Joey Webber said the boys hustled the entire game and did what the coaches asked. Owen Harvey scored his three points from the free-throw line after being fouled while working hard down in the post. Isaac Knudson and Samson Hamilton scored two points each, and Clive Bye added one point.

"The boys are showing more confidence, and I am enjoying seeing the growth out of all of them," said Webber.

NEW WRESTLING COACH IN WAITSBURG

Waitsburg High School has a new wrestling coach for the 2026-2027 season. Blaze Larson grew up in Kennewick and has lived in Waitsburg for about four years. Although this is his first year of coaching at Waitsburg schools, it is not his first coaching job.

Larson started wrestling at age 10 and has been in the wrestling scene ever since. He wrestled for Southridge High School, where he was a four-year varsity team captain. Larson was an assistant coach at Southridge for two years. He has also helped coach youth wrestling in Kennewick.

"I am excited about this opportunity and looking forward to building a strong wrestling community in Waitsburg," said Larson.

"Our girls' team is young, and I am looking forward to teaching fundamentals, work ethic, leadership, and confidence on and off the mat," said Larson

Junior Dylan Gutierrez is the only boy on the team.

"Dylan is already a great wrestler, so I am looking to refine his skills and keep the pressure on his opponents," said Larson.

The first match for the wrestlers will be at the Burbank Jam on Thursday, December 3,

THIS YEAR'S CHEERLEADING TEAM

Juniors Chloe McCaw and Audrey Walker are cheerleading captains for the basketball season. The group has one senior, five juniors, two sophomores and two freshmen.

Coach Vickie Hamann encourages everyone to attend the games; the first game is December 1st in Waitsburg.

"The cheerleaders will be selling Dilly Bars at all home games," said Hamann.

You can also see the cheerleaders and Reggie the Cardinal in the Hometown Christmas Parade.

GIRLS BASKETBALL HAVE FOUR RETURNING PLAYERS

Coach Kira Waggoner has a small, young team this season. One junior, three sophomores, and three freshmen are showing a lot of potential.

Coach Waggoner said she is helping the girls build confidence and to get them comfortable trusting themselves in game situations.

"My expectations are that the girls work hard, stay coachable, support each other, and give their best every day," said Waggoner.

Waggoner will look to junior Cheri Mathews to lead the team and help set the tone for the other girls.

Dayton Mercantile will sponsor the first home Waitsburg High School basketball games on Tuesday, December 1, against Walla Walla Valley Academy. Ameri In-Home Care will sponsor the basketball games against Oakesdale on Saturday, December 5.

PIONEER PORTRAITS

Fifteen Years Ago

December 1, 2011

Cardinals head coach Jeff Barlow just stopped having deja vus. His team's game against Colfax Saturday was the last echo from last year's playoffs. Now that the big red birds have kenneled the Bulldogs, he and the Cards are in unchartered territory – meeting a west side team in the Tacoma Dome for the state championship game. It's a historic time for the Cardinals. Never before has a football team from this town gone to the modern state final. The closest any team has gotten is the semifinals, three times under Bartlow, including last year's matchup against Colfax in Pulman. It's a whole new ball game.

Red Wine Beef Stew

An abrupt change in the season arrived this past week and with it our first hard frost. Since then, all I have wanted to do is wear sweaters, listen to true-crime podcasts, and gently simmer things on the stove. Ah, fall. Braised in a rich wine broth spiced with cloves and fresh herbs, this tender beef stew is a perfect warm-up on a cold autumn night. Easy to prepare, this recipe is delightful both for a cozy family supper or an elegant dinner party to impress.

Ingredients:
4 pounds lean, boneless chuck steak
¼ cup olive oil
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
1 large yellow onion, coarsely chopped
1 to 2 cloves garlic, chopped
6 tablespoons flour
3 cups dry red wine
1 cup beef stock
2 cups water
4 whole cloves
1 bay leaf
6 sprigs parsley
3 sprigs fresh thyme
1 sprig fresh rosemary
6 carrots, trimmed
Fresh parsley, minced, for garnish

Directions:
Trim the meat of excess fat and cut into 2-inch cubes. Pat meat dry and then generously season with salt and black pepper.

In a large heavy pot or Dutch-oven, heat the oil over medium heat. Working in batches, add the meat in single layers to the oil, brown and sear on all sides, about 7 to 10 minutes per batch. When browned, remove the meat, and set aside.

Add the onions and garlic to the pot, cooking and stirring occasionally until soft, about 8 minutes. Add more oil if needed. Return the meat to the pot with all the juices. Sprinkle the flour over the top then stir to evenly coat all the meat with flour. Continue to cook for a few minutes to cook off the raw flour taste.

Pour in the wine and beef stock, scrapping up any browned bits from the bottom of the pot. Bring the mixture to a boil allowing the liquid to thicken slightly. Stir in the water and reduce the temperature to a simmer. Use a piece of kitchen twine to tie the parsley, thyme, and rosemary sprigs into a bunch. Add the cloves, bay leaf, and herb bouquet, then cover with a tight-fitting lid. Simmer for 1 hour and 15 minutes, adjusting temperature if needed to maintain a gentle, steady simmer.

Meanwhile, cut the carrots into 1-inch segmentss, splitting in half lengthwise if they are very thick. Add them to the beef, cover pot, and continue cooking for 30 minutes. Then taste the stew for seasoning, adding more salt or pepper to taste. Allow the stew to continue to simmer gently with the lid off until the beef is very fork-tender and the carrots are cooked through, about another 15 to 30 minutes. Remove the herb stems, allow to rest for a few minutes then garnish the top with parsley.

Notes:
There are several cuts of beef that work beautifully in stew recipes in place of chuck roast, such as sirloin tip roast, top round, or bottom round. While you can sometimes find pre-cubed packages of "stew meat" at the grocery store, I much prefer to purchase a whole cut of beef and cube it myself.

In recipes like this, where the wine is integral to the flavor, I always recommend using a bottle that is good enough to drink. Don't opt for the cheapest bottom shelf wine, but you need not purchase the most expensive either. A moderate priced bottle of dry Pinot Noir, Syrah, or Beaujolais would all be lovely. For example, I used a $16 bottle of Oregon Pinot Noir that was on sale. Buy two bottles, one for the recipe and one to serve with dinner.

This comforting stew is lovely served with buttered egg noodles, or mashed potatoes. To balance the richness, I also served a crisp radicchio and apple salad dressed with a Dijon vinaigrette on the side.

Enjoy.
