Waitsburg Students to compete at Amazing Shake in Atlanta

Students did their part, now the community can do theirs and fundraise for the trip.

By Karen Huwe & Lane Gwinn | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG —After rounds of competition beginning last September, four Waitsburg students have come out on top and will participate in the National Great Shakes Competition. Carter Barron, Chloe McCaw, Verbena McLaughlin, and Wyatt Parish will travel to the Ron Clark Academy in Atlanta, Georgia, in March. As a bonus, since Waitsburg students did so well at regionals, Olivia Kiefel, Jaylynn Gleason, and Lillian Carpenter will also attend the national competition as wildcards.

Twenty-five Waitsburg students went to Mattawa, Washington, to participate in the Amazing Shakes regional competition on February 1, 2024. This is the first year Waitsburg has participated and competed in the Amazing Shake program. Mattawa has held the regional event for the past eight years. Waitsburg competed against students from Othello and Wah-luke Junior High Schools and Scootney Springs and Wahitis Elementary Schools.

The Waitsburg kids did well and earned some first-place finishes. Fourth-grader Oaklee Adams placed first in monologue, seventh-grader Barron was first at the Soup, Salad, and Sandwich station, and eighth-grade student Chloe McCaw was top in Music Influence. Other firsts were earned by eighth-grader McLaughlin at the interview station and fifth-grader Jaylynn Gleason in etiquette.

The event was organized as a gauntlet-style competition with twenty different stations. Students had to perform at stations that challenged them in the skills they had been learning throughout this innovative program. Stations required skills from monologue memorization to keeping cool when giving a winter weather report while pelted in the face with snow. Students hosting cooking shows had to do the math on the fly when asked to triple recipe amounts, and others had to control a courtroom as the presiding judge. The program uses creative and fun situations to help kids develop strong social skills.

Before the students board the plane to Georgia for the March 20-24 National Amazing Shake, they must do extensive fundraising. If you would like information on how to sponsor, donate, or help prepare students for the competition, contact Dusty Wirtzberger at dwirtzberger@waitsburgsd.org or by phone at 509-460-2642.

AT THE LIBERTY: "Aquaman and the Lost Kingdom"

THE TIMES

DAYTON—In "Aquaman and the Lost Kingdom," having failed to defeat Aquaman the first time, Black Mantra is still driven by the need to avenge his father's death, and will stop at nothing to take Aquaman down once and for all. This time Black Manta is more formidable than ever before, wielding the power of the mythic Black Trident, which unleashes an ancient and malevolent force.

Rotten Tomatoes website critics did not like this movie (34% favorable), but the audiences did (81%). IMDb rates this movie as 5.8 out of 10. The Rotten Tomatoes critics' consensus was that "Jason Momoa remains a capable and committed leading man, but even DC diehards may feel that "Aquaman and the Lost Kingdom" sticks to familiar waters." The audience summary was "Featuring stunning visual effects and plenty of action, "Aquaman and the Lost Kingdom" is a solid sequel with a positive message." This movie is rated PG-13 for sci-fi violence and some language. The parent's guide on the IMDb website lists this movie as moderate for violence and gore, and for frightening and intense scenes. Language was considered mild, and all other categories are rated none. Movie runtime is 124 minutes (2 hrs).

ACT LOCALLY, KINDLY, AND HARMONIOUSLY

To our community,

We are troubled by the potential divisiveness of this upcoming election year. With all the wars, genocide, disinformation, the potential of Artificial Intelligence, any of which, could disrupt our democratic process. While we are thinking globally here, let's think about how we can act locally. As a community shouldn't we try living in harmony. If harmony is not the right word, should we consider, civility, respectfulness, kindness or courtesy at the very least. In our small community shouldn't we strive for unity as every decision we make affects each one of us from the very youngest to our most senior members.

It is easy to talk about unity, but it is not easy to live it. What can we find that will unite us as a single community without compromising our beliefs. One thing that comes to mind is working together to support the realization of the planned new swimming pool. Through unity and compromise we could find ourselves sporting something that fills all of the community's needs. The pool will give children access to activities that are wholesome and good recreation. Our senior members will also benefit with another activity for exercise and social engagement. Whether we ourselves use it or not, our community benefits.

Another thing we could unite behind is the new wastewater treatment plant. Supporting our city council and city employees to make the decisions that were entrusted to them by our democratic process only helps the process move forward.

These are but two examples of projects we could unite behind that benefit us all. There are other projects out there that will unite our community for the betterment of all. Let's consider other projects that could be brought to light. How can we start a community conversation that is respectful, thoughtful, courteous, kind, neighborly, civil and possibly even, harmonious.

Respectfully,
Mary Lenox

Dr. S. Roger Hevel, M.D.

September 29, 1925 —
January 26, 2024

Dr. S. Roger Hevel of Waitsburg, WA, died peacefully at home on January 26, 2024, at the age of 98. Roger was born at Pendleton, OR, on Sept 29, 1925, to Shirley A. and Anna G. Hevel, graduating from Pendleton High School with the class of 1943. After attending the University of Oregon for two quarters, he turned 18 and volunteered for service in the U.S. Navy. After boot camp, the Navy sent him to college at Carroll College, MT, and the University of Washington where he earned a B.S. in Chemistry in 1946. At the end of WWII, he was discharged but remained in the Naval Reserve. He attended the University of Oregon Medical School (now Oregon Health Sciences University, receiving his M.D. in 1949. After completing his internship at Ancker Hospital in St. Paul, MN, he was recalled to active duty in the Navy, serving almost two years as a naval physician, primarily on ships transporting troops to and from the Korean conflict. After being discharged in 1952, he completed his residency at Providence and Emanuel Hospitals in Portland.

Roger married his high school sweetheart Laura Jean Hampton of Pendleton on March 23, 1947. They had a wonderful marriage of 71 years until she passed away on December 23, 2018. They moved to Waitsburg, WA, in 1953 where for 40 years Dr. Hevel was a family medical doctor, serving also as the City Health Officer. For more than fifty years, he was a devoted member of the Waitsburg First Presbyterian Church, where he served as an elder and trustee and sang in the choir. He was one of the founders of the Waitsburg Ambulance Service, serving on its board for many years. He was also a member of other local civic organizations, including the Commercial Club.

He is survived by his son, David Roger Hevel of Richland, WA, daughter, Claudia Ann Hevel (and spouse Stan Doty) of Los Altos, CA, four grandchildren, David Roger Hevel, Jr. (and spouse Jocelyn), Melanie Ann Hevel-Olson (and spouse Eric), John Robert Hevel Doty (and spouse Claire Abu-Hakima) and Anna Dawn Hevel Doty, and two great-grandsons, Roger William Hevel and Elias Zachary Hevel. He was preceded in death by daughter-in-law, Carol Lee Travis Hevel, and infant children Douglas and Paula.

There will be a private interment at Olney Cemetery, Pendleton, Oregon. Donations in honor of Dr. Hevel may be given to the Hevel Waitsburg Fund through the Blue Mountain Community Foundation or to a charity of the donor's choice. On-line guest book is at www.corbeillfuneralhomes.com. Corbeill Funeral Home, Dayton, is caring for the family.

September 29, 1925 – January 26, 2024

Norman Robert Thomas

1952-2024

Born on May 15, 1952 in Colville WA to Robert Reeves Thomas and Anna Cecilia Thomas.

Growing up in Coville WA his parents taught him about baseball, fishing and the love of the outdoors.

He attended Aster elementary school until 1962 when the family relocated to Dayton WA. He graduated from Dayton high school in 1970. During high school he was active in sports including Football, Basketball, Baseball and Golf.

Upon graduation he was employed for summer work for the Green Giant pea and green bean harvest.

In the fall of 1970 he enrolled in at EWSC, now EWU in Cheney WA. In the fall of 1971 he enrolled in Walla Walla Community College.

Spring of 1972 found him employed by Green Giant again, seeding pea fields then harvesting green beans in Post falls Idaho. He also worked in the wheat fields for local Dayton farmers.

In the fall of 1973, he enrolled at Chapman College in Orange California. Chapman was affiliated with World Campus afloat and he spent a semester at sea. During this time he visited sixteen ports in Asia, the south Pacific and Australia.

In 1974 he was hired by Columbia County Farm Bureau where he worked for nineteen years.

In the fall of 1995, he enrolled in Walla Walla community college in their turf management program. During that time, he worked at the Walla Walla country club and later at the Touchet Valley Gold Club in Dayton, Wash.

After he received his Bachelor of Science degree, he was hired at Oak Knoll Golf club in West Salem Oregon, later he moved to the Dalles Golf Club in the Dalles Oregon. After eight years he moved back to Dayton to work at the Touchet Valley Golf club. He finished his work career working for the Columbia County Road Dept.

He enjoyed slo-pitch softball with the Farm Bureau team, looking for mushrooms, cutting firewood, Mariner baseball, WSU sports, and picking huckleberries, which he learned at an early age from his parents. Fishing, steelhead, trout, crappie and salmon and hunted for deer, elk and upland birds continuing his love of the outdoors.

Norm is survived by his sister-in-law Robin Thomas, eldest nephew Andrew George Thomas, wife Joanna and great nephew Gavin of Maui, Hawaii. Benjamin Thomas, wife Bethaney, great nephews; Oliver, Charlie and twin sister Emma, of McCall Idaho and Mathew Lee Thomas of Clarkston Wash. Also survived by numerous first cousins.

I will miss you all. In Lieu of a funeral, I wish all folks to donate to Tunnel to Towers to help others or St Jude Children's Hospital.

Justin C. Mayberry

June 21, 1933 – January 27, 2024

Justin Clarence Mayberry passed away on the morning of January 27, 2024, after ninety-and-a-half years here on earth.

Justin was born on June 21, 1933, to Porter and Rosie "Arvilla" (Beamer) Mayberry in Granger, WA. He was the younger brother of Ellen (Mayberry) Bird. The family moved to Prescott, WA when Justin was 8, where he became a life-long resident and trusted pillar of the community.

Justin graduated Salutatorian with the Prescott High School class of 1951. He attended WSC (WSU) for a year before entering the Marine Corps. Justin trained in San Diego and was stationed as a corporal in Japan at the foot of Mt Fuji. Upon discharge, he returned to Prescott, where he worked for several farmers and married the love of his life, Laverne (Dorsey) Mayberry, in 1957. They immediately started a family. While delivering fuel around Prescott, he spotted the house at 4th and F Street. They remodeled it and moved into the family home in 1962, where they would reside for 57 years until Laverne died in 2019. Justin continued to reside there until 2023, when his health dictated the move to Brookdale Senior Living in College Place, WA.

Justin worked at the Walla Walla Farmers Co-Op in Prescott and was employed there for 41 years, until his retirement in 1998. In addition, he supported the community by becoming the Prescott city clerk and Prescott Volunteer Fire Department Chief for 25+ years. Justin supported Kathy, Mike, and Tim in sports, Boy Scouts, 4H, and numerous school activities. He belonged to the Prescott Booster Club, Walla Walla Elks Lodge, and Saint Mark Catholic Church.

Justin C. Mulberry

Every Dad is special. However, Justin Mayberry was molded by our Heavenly Father to become an example of how to live the Christian life in service...to God, his family, his friends, strangers, the poor, and those needing to turn their lives around. When he had little treasure, he shared his time and talents...as a son, as a student, as a Marine, as a hired hand, as a husband, as a mechanic, as a store manager, as a firefighter, as a city clerk, and as a town marshal. He never boasted of his accomplishments. Humility and kindness were ever-present. He was a virtuous man, a shining example of the Cardinal virtues (prudence, justice, temperance, fortitude) and theological virtues (faith, hope, and charity). He led a life of faithfulness...to God (Daily prayer and Scripture), to the Church (faithful service as a Eucharistic minister and member of the choir at St. Mark Parish), to his wedding vows (62 years of marriage to Laverne), to his country (ever a Marine, favorite Holiday 4th of July), to his community, to his family (as a son, brother, father, grandfather, great-grandfather, uncle and cousin).

Justin is survived by his children, Kathy (Mike) Jansen, Mike (Lisa) Mayberry, and Tim (Barbara) Mayberry; Grandchildren, Joshua (Jenny) Mayberry, Michelle (Joe) Sebastiani, Jonathan (Randi) Mayberry, Stuart (Ann) Jansen, Colby (Jessica) Mayberry, Jessica (Ari) Fernando, Suzanne (Elijah) Castillo, Faith Mayberry; Eight great-grandchildren, with one on the way and numerous nieces and nephews, who fondly call him "Unkie Justin." He was preceded in death by his parents, stepfather Joe Wilkinson, an infant sister, Luella, sister Ellen Mayberry-Bird, and his beloved wife, Laverne.

Viewing and visitation will be held Friday, February 9, 2024, beginning at 3:00 pm, followed by a Rosary service at 7:00 pm, at the Chapel of the Herring Funeral Home. The funeral Mass will be held Saturday, February 10, 2024, at 10:00 am, at St. Mark Catholic Church in Waitsburg, WA. A graveside service will follow at the Ivy Cemetery, Prescott, WA.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Mark Catholic Church, Prescott HS Alumni Association, or a charity of the donor's choice through Herring-Groseclose Funeral Home, 315 W Alder, Walla Walla, WA 99362. In addition, friends and family are invited to sign the online guestbook at www.herringgroseclose.com.

WAITSBURG SENIOR NIGHT

By Karen Huwe | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG — Waitsburg high school basketball teams played Yakima Nation Tribal teams on Friday, February 2, at home on Kison Court.

The junior varsity boys lost their game 50-22. The young men battled hard against the Eagles. Teegan Kenny scored 11 points and rebounded eleven. Rollin Carpenter had 14 boards, and Jayton Gleason scored eight points and rebounded eight. Fredy Chavez scored three points and rebounded six. Tyler Coulston, William Daves, and Trace Nesje assisted their team with defense, rebounds, and steals.

The Lady Cardinals lost 58-10 to Yakima Tribal on senior night. Makena Barron scored eight points and rebounded four. Abbi Paolino rebounded six and had three steals. Cheri Mathews scored two points and had four boards. Kaydance Tiner had six boards. Alyssa Hollingsworth, Sarah Daves, Victoria Whitmore, and Addison Crenshaw worked hard on defense.

Against the Eagles, the Cardinals varsity boys team had a 13-6 lead after the first quarter. The Eagles went on a 10-0 run to open the second quarter and came within three points at halftime: 24-21.

Waitsburg hit their shots in the second half and played tough defense to outscore the Eagles 31-22 and win 55-43. Ryland Kilts led the Cardinals in scoring with 33 points. Blake French had 10 points and 11 rebounds, Reuben Yutzy finished with five points and had ten rebounds, and Wyait Booth scored five. Lucas VanHoose contributed two points, and Jack Karl and Logan Seal played solid defense for the Cardinals.

The game against the Eagles was a must-win game for the Cardinals to stay in contention for the playoffs. Their only hope was for Touchet to beat Yakima Tribal the following Saturday night to force a playoff with the Eagles. Yakima Tribal won on Saturday and secured the fourth-place slot, eliminating the Cardinals from post-season play.

WAITSBURG BOOSTER CLUB - BOOSTER OF THE YEAR AWARDS

By Lane Gwinn | THE TIMES

WAITSBURG— The 2024 Booster of the Year Awards were presented by Club President Ross Hamann during halftime at the boys varsity basketball game against Yakima Tribal on Friday, February 2. Becky Harshman and Karen Huwe received well-deserved applause and recognition from the crowd attending the game.

Becky Harshman nomination:

"Becky is truly deserving of special recognition as she has served the booster club with tireless dedication and enthusiasm. Not only did she serve as a Club Officer and Treasurer for over 12 years, Becky also helped keep the booster club alive during the lowest times of support during the combine years. When others were ready to give up, Becky said, "No" we need to keep going. This club is going to make a comeback! Becky was right, because of her perseverance, the Booster Club is thriving with more members and more interest than ever before!"

Karen Huwe nomination:

"As the renewed interest in the Booster Club accelerated with support last year, Karen has gone above and beyond to build membership, promote club fundraisers, sell club merchandise, deliver products to people's homes, and serve as a board member. Karen never stops promoting and supporting the kids in this community. You will find Karen at every home game, as she is always serving in some capacity, from running the scoreboard or working the scorebook, coaching the younger kids, or helping with open gym. Karen cares deeply about kids and the community and she shows it with her actions."

Balance in the Life of a Retiree

By Vicki Sternfeld-Rossi | THE TIMES

Life balance - I have that under control. Now that I am retired, I will have more time for tennis, cleaning the house, classes, dog walking, gardening, and whatever else I want or need to do. I doubt I will be bored; however, I am sure I will continue the art of procrastination when it comes to house cleaning, laundry, and organizing the attic. It's the financial balance I need to conquer.

I am proud to say I have recently started thinking about how to be more financially disciplined. This is a significant shift, as self-discipline has never been my strong suit. When I began working, my mother said my financial plan was to spend my entire paycheck before I received the next one. My parents (thankfully) begged me, and for once, I listened and set up automatic savings with every paycheck. Before the advent of the 401k, I bought savings bonds, then eventually contributed to my 401k. And, per their advice, I increased the percentage of my contribution with every raise I received. Out of my sight, out of my spending ability.

My recent test of my financial discipline started with an email from my favorite tennis shop. There were some cute tops on sale that I didn't need but wanted.

I put them in my cart and then removed them. I received the usual follow-up email saying, "You have items left in your cart, and they are going fast!" Again, I looked, closed the window, and was proud of myself. Later that day, I decided I deserved a retirement present, so I pressed "buy."

The day before this undisciplined purchase, I spent over $50 at Staples printing contracts to review for my clients. With that job completed, I was about to dump the stacks of paper before my new "frugal" mantra struck me. I put the saved paper, clean side down, in my printer so as not to waste paper. Maybe it's not a perfect financial balance, but it's a start. Every penny counts when trying to establish more disciplined habits.

I have canceled two subscriptions and now look closely at grocery store sales inserts. A whole chicken is less expensive per pound than one cut-up, and yogurt has a long shelf life, so any on sale because of expiration dates closing in, are just fine with me.

I now speed close emails with cute home items for sale and have stopped buying "work" clothes. I ignore the emails that promise me "free gifts" because I know it's only free if you purchase something. I have considered learning to darn socks. But the reality is, my dryer eats socks, so I must give in and buy, not repair.

Where I will not skimp is on the water bill. When sub-zero, single-digit, and winter weather rears its head again, I will continue to keep weeping the pipes to keep them from freezing. Flushing toilets, trickling water from the taps, and showers are worth the cost.

I have purchased seeds for this season and hope to continue growing much of our produce this spring and summer. I may even see a reduced grocery bill if I can grow enough. What savings we gain will be spent on traps to keep our profits from being eaten by mice.

Wine of the Week

Secret Squirrel 2018 Rhone Blend

By Paul Gregutt | THE TIMES

I've featured this brand previously, but when you find something this good, it's worth repeating. A sister brand to Corliss and Tranche, Secret Squirrel is priced significantly lower yet reflects the same commitment to quality. This GSM-style blend emulates the very popular red wines from the south of France, and here in Walla Walla you can find quite a few, though none any better at this price. The 2018 is the current release and benefits, in terms of smoothness and accessibility, from spending 22 months in French oak as well as the additional bottle age after bottling. The final blend is 58% Syrah, 25% Mourvèdre, and 17% Grenache – very similar to the outstanding 2017. Better still, two-thirds of this wine is from Red Mountain grapes. It's packed with flavor, a dense blend of blackberries, cassis, cold coffee, graphite, and cedar. Given those extra years in barrel and bottle, it's a formidable, well-aged wine drinking in its prime and at a price that is simply unmatched at this quality level. 3644 cases; 14.5%; $25 (Columbia Valley) 93/100

Beef Taquitos

Some of the most popular and recognizable foods of Mexico fall into the category of small bites called antojitos, which can be found across the country sold in markets or from street vendors. Translated as "little cravings", these savory dishes, including tacos and chili rellenos, are often served as appetizers or as midday snacks. One of my favorites, taquitos or flautas, are tortillas rolled with flavorful fillings and fried crisp. Perfect served with an array of different salsas, guacamole or crema, these delightful bites make a fun finger food for a party.

Ingredients:

- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- ½ small onion, diced
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 tablespoon tomato paste
- 1 teaspoon ground chili
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- ½ teaspoon dried oregano
- Salt
- 2 chipotle peppers in adobo sauce, minced (optional, see notes)
- ¼ cup water
- 15 to 18 corn tortillas
- 1 ½ cups Colby Jack cheese, shredded
- Neutral oil for frying or baking

Directions:

In a large skillet, heat olive oil over medium-high heat. Add the onion and sauté until they soften, about 3 minutes. Add the garlic and continue to cook until fragrant about 1 minute. To this add the ground beef, cooking until browned and cooked through, about 8 minutes. Use a wooden spoon to crumble the beef as it browns.

Next, make a well in the center of the pan and add the tomato paste to the open spot. Cook for a minute, stirring frequently, to toast the tomato paste. Add the dried spices along with a generous pinch of salt. Stir to evenly combine everything together then add the chipotle peppers and water. Continue to cook, stirring frequently for another 3 to 5 minutes. Taste and adjust seasoning, adding more salt as needed. Remove from the heat and set aside.

Heat a dry cast-iron skillet or comal over medium-high heat. When hot, cook the tortillas until soft and pliable, about 30 seconds per side. Place the tortillas in a tortilla warmer or keep them wrapped in a clean towel as you go so they remain soft.

Assemble the taquitos by placing a heaping spoonful of the beef mixture in the middle of each tortilla. Top the beef with a pinch of the cheese and tightly roll the tortilla into taquitos. Use a toothpick lengthwise to secure the seam closed.

Pour enough oil into a deep skillet or Dutch-oven that will reach a level of at least halfway up the taquitos. Heat the oil over medium-high heat to 350 degrees. Use a thermometer to maintain a steady temperature, adjusting the heat as needed. To test, toss a small piece of tortilla into the oil. If it immediately sizzles, it is ready. Cook in batches of about 3 to 4 taquitos at a time. Fry until lightly golden brown and crisp, about 1 to 2 minutes per side. Allow the oil to heat back up between batches. Transfer fried taquitos to a large platter lined with paper towels, or to wire rack over a sheet pan. Season the taquitos with a small pinch of salt immediately after removing them from the oil. You can place the platter or tray in a warm oven while you continue to fry the batches.

Alternate method:

Instead of frying you could also try baking your taquitos. Preheat the oven to 425 degrees. Place the taquitos in a single layer, on a parchment lined baking sheet. Lightly brush or spray the taquitos with oil on all sides. Bake until golden and crisp, about 15 to 20 minutes. For even baking you could flip the taquitos halfway through the baking time.

*Remember to remove the toothpicks when they are cool enough to handle.

Notes:

Chipotle peppers in adobo sauce are sold in small cans and have a wonderful smoky chili flavor. You can find them in the Latino section of grocery stores, often on the same shelves as canned salsas and roasted green chilis. If you cannot find them you could try using a dash of your favorite Mexican-style hot sauce, or just add more tomato paste.

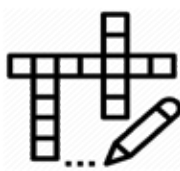

Make sure to tightly pack your filling when rolling the taquitos. It can also help to gently push the filling inwards on both sides, to hold it all in place.

Serve taquitos with a drizzle of crema or a dollop of sour cream. Top with chopped tomatoes and fresh cilantro. On the side, serve taquitos with your favorite salsa, like pico de gallo, and guacamole. A sprinkle of crumbled cotija cheese is also lovely on top. Serve them as a fun appetizer or make them an entrée with a side of beans and rice.

Enjoy.
